Note: These instructions presume that Hidden Brackets will be used in both the top and bottom of the Vino Series Post system. If only installing on one side, cut from the open end of the Post in step 4, thus keeping the welded mounting plate intact.

1. Remove First Mounting Plate

On one section of the Vino Series Post only, squarely cut the posts flush with the mounting plate to remove the mounting plate. Clean off any resulting burrs with a metal file. This will leave one section with a mounting plate and the other open ended at both ends.

2. Assemble Post

Locate steel c-channel end of the bottom part of the Post and insert it into the top end.

3. Insert the Post Hidden Bracket

Slide the Hidden bracket piece into the open end of the Post, with the mounting holes positioned toward the front and back of the Post. For maximum rigidity when installed, it is recommended that a self-drilling screw be inserted through the side wall of the frame and into the "U" channel of each bracket. FIGURE C

4. Mark, Then Cut Post

Take a precise measurement of the floor to ceiling distance in the exact spot that the frame is to be installed and subtract 1/8 inch (the thickness of the Hidden Bracket) and write down the resulting measurement.

Starting from the end with the Hidden Bracket already installed, measure toward the end with the welded mounting plate still in place and mark both uprights with the measurement written down; so that the remaining welded mounting plate will be cut off. Cut the frame squarely at the marked locations and carefully remove any burrs with a metal file.

5. Place Next Hidden

Install the second Hidden Bracket following the procedure in step 3 and refer to the Vino Series Post installation instructions to complete the remaining installation steps, ensuring that screws are securely fastened into both mounting holes in each Hidden bracket.
